

Global Migration Trends

- The number of countries offering resettlement programs has grown significantly in recent years, from 14 resettlement countries in 2005 to 27 resettlement countries worldwide in 2018.
Source: UNHCR.org, "Information on UNHCR Resettlement"
- The Russian invasion of Ukraine has created the fastest and one of the largest displacements of people since the second world war. In mid-2022, 6.3 million Ukrainians remained displaced, within Ukraine.
Source: UNHCR Mid-Year Trends 2022, "Introduction", page 6.
- The total number of refugees worldwide rose to 32 million by mid-year 2022; an increase of 24 percent from the year prior.
- Refugees from Syria, Venezuela, and Ukraine comprise just over half of the global refugee population:
 - 6.82 million refugees originated from Syria
 - 5.55 million refugees originated from Venezuela
 - 5.44 million refugees originated from Ukraine

69% of refugees stay within their immediate region and are hosted by a neighboring country. Turkey, Colombia, Germany, Pakistan, and Uganda currently host the greatest number of refugees.
Source: UNHCR Mid-Year Trends 2022, "Refugees", pages 10-12.

- More than half of all refugees are hosted by 10 countries.

Turkiye hosted 3.7 million refugees	Russian hosted Federation 1.5 million refugees
Colombia hosted 2.5 million refugee	Poland hosted 1.2 million refugees
Germany hosted 2.2 million refugees	Sudan hosted 1.1 million refugees
Pakistan hosted 1.5 million refugees	Peru hosted 1 million refugees
Uganda hosted 1.5 million refugees	Bangladesh hosted just under 1 million refugees.

Source: UNHCR Mid-Year Trends 2022, "Refugees", page 12.